Bathroom Furniture Collection

*M*y idea for Harborview came about when I was designing and building our home overlooking a beautiful harbor on the coast of Maine. I began to think about creating spaces from which to enjoy our favorite view of the boats in the harbor and the islands beyond. It was at this point I began to rethink our home's interior. My bath had some of the best views in the house, so I thought about the importance of this space beyond everyday use. With the advent of massaging showers and jetted tubs, the bath has become a private retreat, a place to get away and unwind in the comfort of our own homes.

I began envisioning a collection of furniture for the bath, freestanding pieces that would offer both superior craftsmanship and thoughtful design. Used individually or as a set, they would instantly transform the room, without need for built-in cabinetry or labor-intensive installations.

As you look through this brochure, you'll find three distinctive bathroom furniture collections to suit your personal taste and style. All of our pieces are built to last, in solid wood that's been specially treated to withstand the moist climate of the bath. With your choice of size, finish, and a host of state-of-the-art built-ins, you'll get custom-style furnishings and a remarkable value.

Cozy. Inviting. Relaxed.

Our Cottage Collection evokes the nostalgic charm of a country getaway, with gently curved legs, inset panels, and a white ceramic basin. It's handcrafted of solid maple, with a state-of-the-art finish that makes it impervious to the bath's fluctuating humidity. And while most vanities are only 30" high, we made ours a full 36" for improved ergonomics.

Look inside the vanity, and you'll find innovative storage options, including a pull-out shelf that's custom-designed to hold an included woven basket, tissue holder and porcelain cleaning brush. Dovetail joinery and full-extension roller slides ensure that our solid wood drawers open smoothly, while quiet-close European hardware extends the life of the cabinet by reducing everyday wear.

The Cottage Collection includes a vanity cabinet, mirror, and vertical storage cabinet, all in your choice of a Designer White or Rustic Timber finish. Vanity is available in 24", 30" or 36" widths, with a Corchia White marble (shown) or Absolute Black granite countertop.
